Good Web Site

What is the URL of the website?

https://www.theguardian.com/film+tone/reviews

Does this page use tables? If so, for what purpose (page layout, organization of information, or another reason)?

Of course there are tables and there are evaluations in the tables.

Does this page use CSS? If so, for what purpose (page layout, text and color configuration, or another reason)?

Of course, as in every web page, the css on this site is included. The purpose of use on this site is the same as on other sites; coloring, resizing tables, images, titles, etc.

Is this page appealing or unappealing? List three reasons for your answer.

It's fine, but it looks like a news site. and with a little more editing it could have a nicer look.

If this page is unappealing, what would you do to improve it?

I would make the necessary size adjustments and edit it to look like a news page.
